

machine, in which he will compete for the Gordon Bennett cup, will not arrive until tomorrow. This powerful racer is supposed to be capable of seventy miles an hour, against the seventy-six credited to the 100-horsepower Blériot of Le Blanc.

The program for the day went through by the car.

The events called off yesterday because of the gale were postponed to a later day not yet named.

The hourly distance and altitude events were won by J. Armstrong Drexel took first place in the initial distance event with twenty-eight laps (70 kilometers, or 43.5 miles), in 54 minutes 33.5 seconds. Auburn was second, with twenty-five laps, and Johnstone, in a Wright biplane, third, with twenty-one laps.

In the same hour Count DeLesseps, in a Blériot, won the hourly altitude prize with an elevation of 5,618 feet. Brookings was second in his unlucky flight.

In the second hour Latham, who started late, overhauled his competitors, and when time was called was credited with twenty-one laps, one less than he had actually made, although he had quit the course for some unknown reason two minutes before the finish. Grahame-White, with twenty-one laps, took second place. Auburn, in a Blériot, was last of all to start and first to finish, also with twenty-one laps; but the judges deducted one lap as a forfeit for alighting in mid-course. Although he was placed last, his time for the distance was the fastest of the three.

Hamilton Comes Out.

As dusk was falling Charles K. Hamilton took out his 116-horsepower Hamiltonian biplane and made a cut of the course. His time was actually for the two and one-half kilometers of the inner round at 1 minute 52.5 seconds, but he swung so wide around the curves that his distance was actually much greater and his speed correspondingly higher.

ROOSEVELT KEEPS THINGS STIRRING

He Continues Assault Against Dix as Member of Wall Paper Trust.

Binghamton, N. Y., October 24.—The study of scientific farming at close range kept Theodore Roosevelt busy most of the time to-day. He rode ninety-three miles in an automobile to inspect abandoned farms of this section of the State, beginning at Ithaca and ending at Binghamton, and decided that a farmer who goes about it in the right way can make a good living from land which is now going to waste.

Colonel Roosevelt also found time to keep things stirring politically, making three speeches for the Republican State ticket. The new point which he emphasized in these speeches was in his declaration that John A. Dix, Democratic candidate for Governor, had been a director of the so-called wall paper trust for eighteen months, in spite of Mr. Dix's statement of last Saturday to the contrary.

When Colonel Roosevelt arrived at Ithaca, the daily Representative John W. Dwight, Professor L. H. Bailey, of Cornell University, and George E. Monroe, an expert from the Agricultural Department, met him and took him to breakfast. Representative W. W. Cooks, of Colonel Roosevelt's home county, was in the party. While they were eating breakfast a band appeared, followed by a crowd of Cornell students, who started the day with a bang by shouting "Cornell, I yell, yell, yell, Cornell, Teddy."

Colonel Roosevelt appeared on the balcony of the hotel and spoke of Mr. Dix being a director in the so-called wall-paper trust.

Then the day's ride was started. The first stop was made at the farm of James Shekela, fourteen miles from Ithaca. Mr. Monroe showed the colonel land which a few years ago had been regarded as virtually useless and which, he said, now produced 200 bushels of potatoes to the acre. He explained that all the farmers have to do is to follow the advice which he gives in regard to selecting the right kind of seed and using correct methods of cultivation.

The colonel referred in his speech here to a circular which he said the Democrats had sent out. He had one of the circulars in his hand.

"The Democratic party in this campaign stands for tranquility and peace, and is opposed to the wild theories of Roosevelt," he read from the paper.

"Well, the big Roosevelt doctrine is 'Thou shalt not steal,' he said. 'I don't think that the Roosevelt policies will require for legitimate uses a large outlay of money,' he continued, again reading from the circular. 'The colonel continued, 'signed by Charles F. Murphy and others.'"

"They may call them the Roosevelt policies if they wish," the colonel continued. "They are the policies of the average frightened man. It will require a larger outlay of money than all the money that Tammany Hall can collect from Wall Street."

"I think we'll win," Colonel Roosevelt exclaimed.

claimed, "this year, and if not we'll go ahead and win next time. We've got the Republican party on the highest plane it has ever been in New York State."

Colonel Roosevelt said that big business men of Wall Street were trying to frighten the smaller business men throughout the State into voting against Rooseveltism. He declared the alarm they were trying to create was baseless, and that an honest man had nothing to fear from Mr. Stimson. But if it were necessary to undergo a temporary period of business depression to bring about honesty in the business, he said, honestly must be obtained even at that cost. Colonel Roosevelt will continue his speech-making tour to-morrow.

BOYS ESCAPED FROM OFFICER

Handcuffed on Way to Laurel, They Make Dash for Liberty.

Telephone information reached here last night that two of the three youths—H. H. Thompson, Edward Loving and H. J. Carroll—who were sentenced to the reformatory in Police Court yesterday morning on the charge of house-robbing, escaped from the Laurel reformatory officer by jumping from the train and running into the woods near Laurel. Both boys were handcuffed, and for that reason it is believed they will soon be apprehended again. Further details of the escape could not be learned last night.

The three youths were convicted of having broken into and robbed the house belonging to R. H. Howard at 2801 East Grace Street. They were arrested Saturday morning by Bicycle Policeman Palmer just as they were preparing to withdraw their stolen lead pipe from the room on Seventeenth Street they had placed it in. They had intended remaining there and continuing their work of robbing houses of lead fixtures through Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night, and then going to Charlottesville, thence to Charleston, W. Va. Moses Brown, from whom they rented the room, became suspicious when he saw so many bundles being brought in, and he notified the police. Officer Palmer caught them in an alley. All had been in the reformatory before.

Randolph—Need.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Warsaw, Va., October 24.—No society event of the season has been of greater interest throughout the State, than the marriage of Dr. Henry Ward Randolph, of Richmond, and Miss Agnes Rebecca Reed, which took place this evening in the beautifully appointed home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Nelson Reed, at Reedville, Northumberland county.

The house had been beautifully decorated, the effect being pink and green, pink roses, Southern smilax and palms, except in the apocryphal parlor, where the marriage ceremony was performed, there the effect being white and green, the decorations consisting of Bride roses and Southern smilax.

Just at the hour of 8 o'clock, Miss Mary DeMott Edwards, of Salisbury, Md., a cousin of the bride, sang in a sweet soprano voice, "Oh, Promise Me," at the conclusion of which her accompanist, Miss Laura Alford, struck the first note of the wedding march from "Lohengrin," and the bride procession started. The first to enter the parlor were the two ushers, Robert B. Moore, of Reedville, and J. Everett Marsh, of Baltimore. Following these came the two maids of honor, Miss Elizabeth Cockrell Reed, sister of the bride, and Miss Ruth Slater Randolph, sister of the groom; these were followed alike, in white crepe meteor, draped

CAPERS STANDS PAT

He Is Determined to Hold His Lily White Reputation.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Washington, D. C., October 24.—Despite the efforts on the part of President Taft, or Postmaster-General Hitchcock, acting for the administration, to have it annulled, the "Lily White" Republican Convention, scheduled to be held at Columbia, S. C., October 28, will not be called off.

The President heard through Mr. Hitchcock a day or two ago that John G. Capers, as the head of the Republican party in South Carolina, was preparing to hold a pure white affair at Columbia at the time named; in fact, Mr. Capers had advertised that he proposed to organize a white man's party here from the ground up. The country would become alarmed at such a proceeding and injure the Republican cause in the next national election, caused Mr. Hitchcock to rush to the President and have him send for Capers, requesting the latter to call him off. He saw the President to-day and absolutely declined to withdraw the call for the meeting, stating that in spite of the administration's opposition to the negro, the convention would be held. Meantime, it looks like Hitchcock, as the administration postmaster, is at a loss what to do, and is under no movement that shuts out the negro. P. H. McG.

DOGS FOR BRIDESMAIDS

Their Capering and Frisking Interfered With Marriage Ceremony.

New York, October 24.—Just the minute the Rev. E. L. Coffey started the wedding service, making Mrs. Mary Schley Bowen, a wealthy San Francisco society woman, and Percy W. Evans, head of a big Seattle shipping concern, man and wife to-day, the three bridesmaids began to frisk and caper about. It took all the soothing efforts of the best man, the groom, and Mr. E. L. Coffey, of San Francisco, maroon of honor, to keep them fairly quiet, so that the ceremony could proceed. The wedding was being held at the home of Mr. Delroy, lavishly furnished with rare objects of art from Japan. The bridesmaids were Konko-San, Fuku-San and Oryo-Geish, and wore gorgeously embroidered kimonos with tiny lace. They are high-natured Japanese kimonos, and were simply glad to see their mistress, who held them by a leash. Japanese scoundrels, a light on the scene. On a pedestal near the improvised altar stood a hideous, grinning dog of Chinese porcelain, and a great, hairy Buddha smiled close by in his gilded niche.

The setting for the wedding was quite appropriate for the couple, first met while traveling in Japan a year ago.

After the ceremony, the dog bridesmaids were given a dog dinner by Mrs. Eugene Clark, wife of the opera singer, at which Miss Lillian Russell's toy spaniel was also a guest.

Mr. Evans arrived with his bride from Japan, and will return with his bride to-morrow. After a trip of three months they will go to live in Seattle.

CONDITION NOT SERIOUS

Family of Senator Elkins Denies Peril.

Elkins, W. Va., October 24.—Because of conflicting reports as to the condition of Senator Stephen B. Elkins, W. Va., at his home here, Dr. W. W. Golden, the Senator's physician, gave a statement to the Associated Press to-day. The physician said that many of the Senator's friends throughout the country were caused needless anxiety by the reports, and the family desires it to be known that the Senator was in no way in danger, and that the reports were not to be believed. The statement says:

"The reports that Senator Elkins is critically ill are wholly untrue, and furthermore, at no time during his present illness has his condition been such as to give alarm to his family physician or the members of his family. He is more or less unwell since shortly before the adjournment of Congress, and on this account spent a few weeks at Hot Springs, Va., immediately after the adjournment. His anxiety to be in the best possible condition to take up the arduous work of the next session of Congress prompted him to accept the advice of his physician and take an absolute rest from public and political life. He is free of all business and public life, and is making excellent use of his unusual digestive capacity, so well known to his friends. The enforced rest surely means a day. The enforced rest and quiet have done much for him, and he confidently expects to be in his place in December."

Washington, October 24.—All the unallotted lands of the Five Civilized Tribes of Indians in Oklahoma, approximately 1,650,000 acres, and the forested area in the Choctaw Nation, amounting to about 1,350,000 acres, are to be sold at public auction, according to a decision reached by the Secretary of the Interior to-day. The decision, to sell the Indians' lands came as a result of the recent visit of Secretary Ballinger and Commissioner of Indian Affairs Valentine, of Oklahoma, a study of the status of the property rights of the Five Civilized Tribes, and conferences with President Taft. Regulations having been promulgated, the lands now are being advertised for sale at public auction. They will be sold by counties continuously from November 21, 1910, to March 1, 1911. Edwards, gown in turquoise satin royal, with crystal trimmings, and carried pink chrysanthemums tied with pink tulle. Last, Miss Nettie Virginia Cockrell, next entered as the flower girl, wearing a dainty little dress of white lace creation and pink ribbons.

The groom next entered the parlor, attended by his best man, W. T. Edwards, of Richmond. Immediately after these came the bride, on the arm of her father, who gave her away. She was dressed in white satin, trimmed in rose point lace and pearl trimmings.

Her tulle veil was caught back with a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids. The bride party was met at the altar by the officiating clergyman, Dr. Wm. E. Edwards, uncle, and Rev. J. F. Cuthrell, pastor of the bride, who performed the ceremony jointly.

After the marriage, the bridal party and the wedding guests were ushered into the beautifully decorated dining room, where a sumptuous repast, consisting of every delicacy, was served.

At 3 A. M. Dr. and Mrs. Randolph were driven to Coan Wharf, where they took steamer for Washington, going immediately to New York, in order to sail on the morning of the 29th for Bermuda Island, where they will spend their honeymoon.
